

Rocco Macri, Principal

330 East 21st Street New York, NY 10010

212-674-4545

College Access for All

This month, Simon Baruch MS 104 will be dedicating the month to engaging our seventh graders in our College Access for All initiative. Over the next few weeks students will engage in a series of seminars and workshops that will expose them to various topics related to college and career readiness. This will include conversations around the college exploration process, making strong first impressions, effective communication and decision making strategies. The month will culminate in a visit to the Farmingdale State College campus in Long Island, which boasts SUNY's largest applied science and technology program. Our goal is to provide students with a sense of campus and college life. We are excited to bring this program to our seventh graders!!!