

PS 77-The NYC Laboratory School for Gifted Education

1700 Third Avenue • New York, NY 10128

Sandra G. Miller, Principal

Denise Pérez, Assistant Principal

Lower Lab Values Excellence in the Arts with a celebratory evening!

On May 15th, Lower Lab parents were invited to our 4th and 5th grade Orchestra concert and choral recital. The evening continued with a gallery-style art exhibit highlighting the work of students in grades K-5. Parents and upper grade students then had the opportunity to mingle and enjoy delicious refreshments as they viewed magnificent artwork.

Lower Lab Values Excellence is part of Lower Lab's social-emotional initiative, for which we place great emphasis on what we value as a school. During this year, we "valued" respect, gratitude, curiosity, modesty, commitment and excellence.

This special evening truly showcased that which we value - excellence. While we value excellence in many areas, on this night it was great fun to highlight the Arts. Kudos and thank you to our terrific staff, especially to our very talented music and art teachers, our generous parents, and of course our awesome students!

Oprah Winfrey said, "Excellence is the best deterrent to racism or sexism." So, we ask you, "got excellence?"

Live...Love...Lab!

Please check out the artwork on the invitation featured below. It was completely designed by LL students.

